

1st Announcement – Call for Applications

August 17th to 26th/2021

Field school on ‘Sustainable Nursing in the Circumpolar North’

Innovative Learning Institutes on Circumpolar Health

*ILICH Finland 2021 will move to a virtual format if student travel is impacted by international travels restrictions. Notice regarding any change to the ILICH format will be provided in advance.

Tentative Program

- Field trips around Oulu
- E-Health services and apps in northern Finland
- The well-being of young girls in northern Finland
- Green care methods in town area, parks and forests
- Oulu sightseeing by bikes and walking

Apply now for our field school in Oulu Finland!

Aug.17-26/2021

Learning experience

- How to meet patients with a holistic approach in nursing
- Green care
- Indigenous people's knowledge about nature and healing
- eHealth possibilities in Northern Finland

You will experience the atmosphere of accommodation in the 1800th century's handicraft town area, study at modern campuses with all their digital tools and nursing technical devices including our University hospitals newest nursing and medical devices.

The UArctic Northern Nursing Education Network (NNEN) is jointly led by the UiT Arctic University of Norway, the University of Saskatchewan, and Aurora College. Diaconia University of Applied Sciences (DIAK) and Oulu University of Applied Sciences (OAMK) will be hosting the Interprofessional Innovative Learning Institute on Sustainable Nursing in the Circumpolar North.

Why Should You Apply:

You will meet fellow students for the Arctic Region. You will be exposed to the Finnish culture and nursing practice also with local students.

What Will You Gain?

You will learn alternative ways of thinking about sustainable nursing practice in the Arctic. You will collaborate and contribute to an innovative model of nursing education.

How to Apply?

Contact your local student councillor or academic advisor.

Planning is for 13 students from NNEN institutions and 10 students from DIAK and OAMK at Oulu.

Collaborative Partners

